Elaine’s mother was adopted. She found her grandparents using the same method that police use to find criminals as well as Jane and John Does. It took her 19 months to find her grandmother and another eight months to find her grandfather. Come hear about the roller coaster ride that comes with searching for family.

Elaine Walker has a B.S. degree in accounting and worked as a tax accountant for years. Then she passed the test to become a Certified Fraud Examiner and switched careers to private investigator. Now retired, she used her sleuthing skills to find her mother’s biological family.
